Ex-Professor Names 34 As Fellow Reds

16 Lawyers Claimed In Labor Relations Agency During War

CHICAGO (AP) — A former college professor has named 34 persons he knew as fellow Communists in the Federal government before and during World War II. Included were 16 lawyers employed by the National Labor Relations Board.

Prof. Herbert Fuchs, 50, testified here yesterday before the House Un-American Activities Committee. He was dropped from the law faculty of American University in Washington after testifying before the committee in a closed session July 15.

Fuchs, who said he dropped out of the Communist party in 1946, declared the 16 NLRB lawyers were members with him of a Communist party cell in the NLRB from 1937 to 1942.

He also named Communists he said were on the old War Labor Board and other government agencies during the administrations of former Presidents Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry Truman.

Several persons Fuchs named denied the accusations.

Lester Asher of Chicago, one of the former NLRB attorneys named by Fuchs, said when he joined the agency in 1938 "Fuchs tried to sell me on communism and was unsuccessful." Asher said he attended one or two cell meetings and quit.

IN WASHINGTON, Ruth Weyand, another former NLRB attorney, said Fuchs' testimony was "nonsense." She said, "He never organized me. I am now and always have been a loyal American."

In Denver, Edward Scheumann denied Fuchs' accusation and, speaking for himself and his wife Cecilia, also named, said: "I have never been and am not now a member of the Communist party."

Louis G. Silverberg, NLRB press chief, said in Washington that none of the 16 attorneys named by Fuchs is now employed by the agency.

Fuchs told the committee he was with the NLRB from 1937 to 1942, and the War Labor Board from 1942 to 1945 in Denver.

Fuchs said one WLB employee complained to the agency's Denver office after being asked to join the Communist cell there, but "though an investigation was made, no employee was dismissed."

Rep. Walter (D-Pa.) committee chairman, commented during the hearing that the release of Fuchs by American University was "a very reprehensible thing." Another committee member said, "I can't understand the university's attitude. First they praised Mr. Fuchs publicly for what he's doing and then they fired him."

Would-Be Rhee Killers Sentenced

SEOUL (AP) — Two of four South Korean soldiers court-martialed on charges of plotting to assassinate President Syngman Rhee were sentenced to death today. A third was sentenced to one year in prison and the fourth was acquitted.

The government arrested eight Koreans, including five civilians, Oct. 3 and charged them with conspiring to kill Rhee with hand grenades at a public ceremony.

Pre-Christmas Retail Trade Booming Along In High Gear

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Christmas shoppers in Baltimore are buying handbags at $100 each. In Dallas, they're splurging on live Mexican burros with carts. Merchants along New York's Fifth Avenue say diamonds and mink are "selling like crazy."

That's the pattern of Christmas buying this year. A survey shows pre-Christmas retail trade in two dozen major cities smashing records right and left.

People are spending more freely than ever before. And their preference seems to lean toward gadgets luxury gifts and frills, rather than "practical" items.

Confidence that this year's Christmas volume will top the record levels of a year ago is evident from San Francisco to New York and Boston to Atlanta.

"We're ahead about 8 per cent," says President Herbert Wilson of Emery, Bird, Layton & Co., Kansas City.

"Business is excellent," declares John P. Murphy, president of Higbee's, Cleveland. M. H. Segner, vice president of Seattle's Bon Marche, describes business as "very, very good—10 per cent or more ahead of last year."

A Los Angeles retailer finds shoppers "not just looking; they are buying. And they're buying good merchandise all down the line."

Booming employment and high wages are boosting Christmas trade in many of the nation's great industrial centers. Pittsburgh is "5 to 10 per cent ahead of normal."

Here and there, you'll find shoppers curbing their Christmas spending. A New Orleans department store official notes that shoppers are a little more cautious this year. "Credit is a little tight."

New York's glittering shops are gunning for new records. Macy's says its business is "going according to plan, or about 5 per cent ahead of last year."

If you're for off-trail gifts, you'll find a wide assortment. Neiman-Marcus in Dallas is selling quit claim deeds to real estate, on the moon "for people who have everything on earth."

Macy's New York is advertising "things you never knew existed." They include: a fur dust mitt for mother, a commuter's coffee pot (which plugs into the dashboard), a whistle that attracts squirrels, a shaving brush especially designed for men with handlebar mustaches—and, of all things, a hair brush for bald heads.

'56 Tax Slash Viewed Coldly By Leaders

Most Solons Doubtful Revenue Relief Due Americans Next Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top House leaders and some senators posed a big question mark today over cutting taxes next year.

In separate talks, Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) and Representatives Martin (R-Mass.) and Cannon (D-Mo.) voiced doubts that any substantial tax relief would be forthcoming. Senators Byrd (D-Va.) and Bridges (R-N.H.) said balanced budget is more important than a tax cut.

Chairman Cooper (D-Tenn.) of the House Ways and Means Committee, where tax legislation normally is originated, declined to comment on the outlook.

Rayburn is boss Democrat in the House; Martin is the top Republican; and Cannon heads the Appropriations Committee. In the Senate, Byrd is chairman of the Finance Committee, and Bridges is senior Republican on the Appropriations Committee.

Their pessimism over the tax outlook differed from the attitude of Sen. George (D-Ga.), an influential member of the Senate Finance Committee. He predicted Friday that pressure for a tax cut "will be too great to resist."

Miss McGuire, 27, has several times complained that her married life with Sgt. John Henry Brown of the Air Force was overcast by too much publicity.

Public interest in the marriage began two years ago when singer Julius La Rosa was dismissed from the Godfrey troupe during a broadcast. At the time he said he loved Dorothy and wanted to marry her if she could gain her freedom.

Miss McGuire filed a countersuit Aug. 30 and the two are now waiting for a court decision on which suit will be heard first.

The divorce suits were disclosed last night by Miss McGuire's lawyer Charles E. Booth. He said Brown filed the original suit here last Aug. 16, seven months after she announced reconciliation.

Miss McGuire filed a countersuit Aug. 30 and the two are now waiting for a court decision on which suit will be heard first.

The couple, who have no children, married July 30, 1951, in Dorothy's hometown of Miamisburg, Ohio. Brown was later sent to Korea and his wife went on to entertainment fame as one of Godfrey's singing McGuire sisters.

When told of the divorce action last night, La Rosa expressed surprise. He said he had not seen Dorothy since "three days before last New Year's."

The nation's top labor leader also attacked "liberals" in this country in a speech yesterday before the National Religion and Labor Foundation.

Meany said he was disturbed that many U.S. "liberals" are "stone silent" about the loss of human rights in Soviet-dominated countries.

Speaking of Nehru and Tito, Meany said no country can be neutral in the struggle between communism and democracy. He said:

"Nehru and Tito are not neutral. They are aides and allies of communism in fact and in effect, if not in diplomatic verbiage."

Meany's speech was made shortly before the announcement in New Delhi of a cooperation pact signed by India and the Soviet.

His remarks brought a formal protest later in the day from K.T. Tripathi, general secretary of the Indian National Trades Council. Tripathi said the attack on Nehru would have "most unfortunate repercussions" throughout Asia.

Meany spoke at a luncheon where he and Walter P. Reuther, AFL-CIO vice president, received the foundation's annual social justice award.

Delegates to the meeting represented civic groups in Greene, Washington, Allegheny, Lawrence, and Beaver counties. The meeting was sponsored by the Greater Pittsburgh Airport Assn.

Democrat Winner In Michigan Poll

DETROIT (AP) — Democrat John Dingell Jr. swamped Republican Thomas E. Brennan yesterday to succeed his late father as representative from Michigan's 13th Congressional District.

Unofficial final returns from the district's 322 precincts gave 29-year-old Dingell 19,624 votes to 6,106 for the 26-year-old Repub-ican.

The district, which is entirely within the city of Detroit, had been represented by John Dingell, a Democrat, from its formation in 1933 until his death last September. The elder Dingell won the 1954 election by a 3-1 margin.

At Least 112 Killed During Safety Period

COLUMBUS (AP)—Death toll in Ohio's 21-day safe driving campaign, just ended, totaled 112 in a preliminary count, the State Department of Highway Safety reported today.

U. C. Felty, director, said he feared the final count may disclose an even higher figure, perhaps in excess of 120.

The traffic fatality count ran from Nov. 12 to Dec. 11, and reports are still coming in.

Felty said in his opinion "the results of the campaign tragically reflect the upward trend of traffic accidents in Ohio and the nation this year, and emphasize again the urgent need to remove irresponsible and incompetent drivers from our streets and highways."

"There is apparently no defense against the reckless, irresponsible driver who ignores the rules of safe driving. If such a driver cannot be helped, then there is only one recourse, and that is, to revoke his right to hold a driver's license."

A breakdown of the preliminary Ohio report shows 63 traffic deaths during the first 10 days of the campaign, 9 deaths on S-D Day, the campaign climax, and 40 fatalities during the final 10-day period.

'Favorite Son' Role Given Nod By Governor

Frank J. Lausche as President of the United States."

Lausche's "favorite son" announcement confused speculation over the possibility he will seek a sixth term as governor or run for U.S. senator. He has said only that he will seek some political office.

Meanwhile, in Washington, Rep. Hays (D-Ohio) said that if Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) competes for Democratic presidential delegates in Ohio he will win a "sizeable bloc" against any opponent.

Hays acknowledged the toughest opponent would be Lausche.

"Just how many Kefauver would win naturally depends on who the delegates are," said Hays.

Kefauver himself has not announced yet whether he will try for his party's presidential nomination. In Ohio three years ago, he won 27 presidential delegates but had an incomplete slate.

Hays, a firm Kefauver supporter, said a full slate of delegates will be ready this time for Kefauver if he chooses to run.

The Democratic National Committee has announced that Ohio will get 58 votes in 1956.

AS FOR KEFAUVER'S intentions, his campaign headquarters in Washington said this afternoon that the senator will announce on Friday whether he will actively seek the Democratic presidential nomination.

Dixon Donnelley of the campaign staff said Kefauver, now on the West Coast, will hold a news conference at 11 a.m. EST Friday.

"At that time he will state his intentions concerning the Democratic nomination," Donnelley said.

Kefauver said yesterday he couldn't confirm a published report by the Chattanooga Times that he would announce his candidacy.

But Charles Aldrich, his press secretary, said the Times "is a reliable newspaper."

April Fool's day is believed to have originated in the Hindu festival held by Hindus on March 31.

Ohio GOP Set To Name Its 'Favorite Son'

Sen. Bricker In Line For Nod; Gov. Lausche Gives Go-Ahead To Dems

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Republican State Committee members meet Friday to pick a "favorite son" candidate for President while Democrats continue to mark time.

Republicans generally agree that Sen. John W. Bricker will be chosen "favorite son" to hold the Ohio delegation until President
Eisenhower reveals his 1956 election plan. Ohio Chairman Ray C. Bliss said the meeting was called because it now appeared Eisenhower would delay his decision until after the Feb. 8 filing deadline for Ohio candidates to the GOP National Convention.

Because of Ohio's early filing date, the "favorite son" device is used to qualify delegates and alternates to national conventions. Statute requires written permission from a presidential candidate for delegate candidates to run pledged to him. They usually stay with the "favorite son" until released to vote for the actual nominee.

Ohio will have 56 delegates with a vote apiece to the GOP convention in San Francisco Aug. 20. Two delegates will be elected in the May 8 primaries from each of Ohio's 23 congressional districts and 10 from the state at-large, the same as in 1952. A like number of alternates will be chosen.

Democrats expect to have 54 Ohio delegates to their national convention in Chicago next year. The tentative date is Aug. 13.

They will elect two delegates and two alternates in each congressional district and 16 at-large. District delegates will have a vote each and at-large delegates a half vote, if the 1952 pattern is followed.

A party spokesman said preliminary meetings in a few districts indicated that numerous Democrats are willing to stand the expense of being a delegate in Gov. Frank J. Lausche's role as their "favorite son."

The governor announced this morning he would accept such a nod from the Democrats.

Heretofore, Lausche had kept mum about his future political plans. He still has not said whether he will seek a sixth term as governor, run for the U. S. Senate against George Bender or perhaps shoot for some higher office.

Oregon Housewife Wins Cooking Prize

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Henry Jorgensen of Portland, Ore., won the $25,000 annual cooking prize of the Pillsbury mills with a recipe for an easy-to-make sweet roll.

The Pillsbury concern said Mrs. Jorgensen "ran circles around other entries" in the firm's seventh annual "bakeoff," in which she and 99 other women vied.

Mrs. Jorgensen, wife of a Portland city employee and mother of an 18-year-old son, had entered the Pillsbury contests each year previously but never qualified.

Ohio Education Group OKs Federal Aid To Local Schools

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Education Assn. (OEA) has agreed to back federal aid to schools. The group also recommended that school boards adopt teacher pay schedules on a ratio of two-to-one between minimum and maximum salaries.

The recommendations were made yesterday in basic policy resolutions considered by OEA members at the final session of their annual convention, marked by strong debate on a proposed amendment on segregation.

The amendment, advanced by Joseph H. Avellone, a teacher and state senator from Cleveland, would advocate withholding state funds from school systems which segregate students on the basis of color, creed or nationality.

Avellone said he had reports that segregation of students was a policy in Chillicothe, Middletown and Hillsboro. This contention was disputed by other delegates.

The president of the Chillicothe Teachers Assn., Miss Mary Campbell, said she has had both colored and white children in her classes for two decades.

"We have had one all-colored building in the system for many years," she said. "This year the first and sixth grades were integrated with other buildings, and this building will be done away with as soon as possible."

Defeated 4 Times, Man Turns To GOP

BALTIMORE (AP)—A Baltimore engineer who has sought public office four times as a Democrat has switched to the Republican ticket in an attempt to change his luck.

Harry D. Kemper, as a Democrat, ran for governor in 1950, mayor in 1951, Congress in 1952, and for state comptroller in 1954. This year he goes for Congress.

"I don't run for a hobby. I really want to win and get out of the grocery business. It's a tough business," he said.

Ohio GOP Set To Name Its 'Favorite Son'

Sen. Bricker In Line For Nod; Gov. Lausche Gives Go-Ahead To Dems

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Republican State Committee members meet Friday to pick a "favorite son" candidate for President while Democrats continue to mark time.

Republicans generally agree that Sen. John W. Bricker will be chosen "favorite son" to hold the Ohio delegation until President Eisenhower reveals his 1956 election plans.

Ohio Chairman Ray C. Bliss said the meeting was called because it now appeared Eisenhower would delay his decision until after the Feb. 8 filing deadline for Ohio candidates to the GOP National Convention.

Because of Ohio's early filing date, the "favorite son" device is used to qualify delegates and alternates to national conventions. Statute requires written permission from a presidential candidate for delegate candidates to run pledged to him. They usually stay with the "favorite son" until released to vote for the actual nominee.

Ohio will have 50 delegates with a vote apiece to the GOP convention in San Francisco Aug. 20. Two delegates will be elected in the May 8 primaries from each of Ohio's 23 congressional districts and 10 from the state-at-large, the same as in 1952. A like number of alternates will be chosen.

Democrats expect to have 54 Ohio delegates to their national convention in Chicago next year. The tentative date is Aug. 13.

They will elect two delegates and two alternates in each congressional district and 10 at-large. District delegates will have a vote each and at-large delegates a half vote, if the 1952 pattern is followed.

A party spokesman said preliminary meetings in a few districts indicated that numerous Democrats are willing to stand the expense of being a delegate in Gov. Frank J. Lausche's role as their "favorite son."

The governor announced this morning he would accept such a nod from the Democrats.

Heretofore, Lausche had kept mum about his future political plans. He still has not said whether he will seek a sixth term as governor, run for the U. S. Senate against George Bender or perhaps shoot for some higher office.

Oregon Housewife Wins Cooking Prize

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Henry Jorgensen of Portland, Ore., won the $25,000 annual cooking prize of the Pillsbury mills with a recipe for an easy-to-make sweet roll.

The Pillsbury concern said Mrs. Jorgensen "ran circles around other entries" in the firm's seventh annual "bakeoff," in which she and 99 other women vied.

Mrs. Jorgensen, wife of a Portland city employee and mother of an 18-year-old son, had entered the Pillsbury contests each year previously but never qualified.

Ohio Education Group OKs Federal Aid To Local Schools

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Education Assn. (OEA) has agreed to back federal aid to schools. The group also recommended that school boards adopt teacher pay schedules on a ratio of two-to-one between minimum and maximum salaries.

The recommendations were made yesterday in basic policy resolutions considered by OEA members at the final session of their annual convention, marked by strong debate on a proposed amendment on segregation.

Hillsboro has been the focal point of a court suit on school segregation in the past year. The Hillsboro School Board says it will abandon its one all-Negro school building after a new building program is completed next year.

Delegates disapproved the funding amendment, but approved as a resolution commendation to schools for rapid racial integration of classes. Avellone sought to make his proposal an amendment to the resolution.

The OEA also approved resolutions for development of written codes of teacher personnel policies, junior college, sabbatical leaves with pay for teachers, more services to gifted children and establishment of an adult schooling division in the state education department.

"We have had one all-colored building in the system for many years," she said. "This year the first and sixth grades were integrated with other buildings, and this building will be done away with as soon as possible."

Defeated 4 Times, Man Turns To GOP

BALTIMORE (AP)—A Baltimore grocer who has sought public office four times as a Democrat has switched to the Republican ticket in an attempt to change his luck.

Harry D. Kemper, as a Democrat, ran for governor in 1950, mayor in 1951, Congress in 1952, and for state comptroller in 1954. This year he goes for Congress.

"I don't run for a hobby. I really want to win and get out of the grocery business. It's a tough business," he said.

Husband, Wife Reunited After Her Lover Slain

CLEVELAND (AP)—Last Friday, machinist Douglas Gott stabbed a tavern operator to death and slashed his own wife several times, telling police later he had caught them in an intimate embrace.

Today, the Gots were back together after a tearful reunion in a hospital, declaring they were going to forgive and forget and start life over again.

Still to be faced, however, is a second degree murder charge filed against the 25-year-old machinist in the death of the tavern operator, Rudolph Longo, 27. Gott was released on $10,000 bond yesterday and went immediately to Euclid-Glenview Hospital where his wife, Joan, 24, had been a patient since he stabbed her.

At her hospital room, the couple embraced in front of four reporters and four photographers there to witness the reunion, talked for a while in whispers and then went to their home in nearby Mentor-On-The-Lake.

GIFT PROBLEMS??

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Do you believe that one person's faith in God can help another? In my own life, and in my immediate family circle, we have everything that we need—love, health, faith, sufficient material goods, challenging work. I feel that our cup truly "runneth over."

But there are those I love, whom I would like desperately to help, if I knew how. Their spiritual, emotional and physical resources simply aren't adequate to cope with the overwhelming problems they face. There is no social agency in the community in which they live, to which they can turn.

They are not religious people, although not anti-religious; and do not get spiritual help from church attendance. Maybe they pray; I don't know.

What Faith Can Do

Recently I heard a sermon on faith in which a clergyman whose views I value talked about what faith can, and cannot, do. He does not believe that a wife's faith, for example, can help an alcoholic husband. The husband himself must believe, this preacher insists.

I want to believe that my prayers to God can help others. What troubles me is this: God is all powerful and all good. He loves more than I am capable of loving. He knows our needs. Why, then, is my intercession necessary? And how can it be effective?

Another question: How can a true Christian, who loves his neighbor as himself, ever be happy when so many of his neighbors are in need of things he cannot hope to supply?

W. B.

DEAR W. B.: You ask why, if God is all powerful and all good, and if He knows our needs, why is your intercession necessary, on behalf of certain unfortunates whom you love.

Well, as I understand, "God is a Spirit" and "God is Love." These are God's truths about Himself as revealed in Holy Writ. And God as Spirit, or God as Love, operates (shall we say) or makes manifest His good purposes, in the human scene, through the lives of persons.

Jailbird's Record Far From A Record

ASHLAND, Ky. (AP)—Jim Fillerer started it by claiming he had been arrested 161 times in 13 years.

This, the 52-year-old Huntington, W. Va., man said, is something of a record. But Ashland natives turned up some statistics of their own from police records Tuesday. The score:

Fred Walters, 598 arrests since 1934 for 1,629 days in jail and fines totaling $5,619, all for misdemeanors.

Lee C. Cloud, placed in the clink for the 288th time Tuesday. John Zornes, arrested 318 times. Fillerer was not available for comment.

Walter Winchell's Daughter Aided

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mrs. Walda von Dehn says she quit a $1,000-a-month job with her father, columnist Walter Winchell, to marry hotel man Hyatt von Dehn but had to depend on friends for support after their separation.

Mrs. von Dehn, 28, was awarded $400 a month temporary support Tuesday pending trial of her contested divorce suit.

Father Arrested In 'Child-Beating'

CLEVELAND (AP)—Frank Simko, 40, who police said beat his 7-year-old son unconscious yesterday with the buckle end of a belt, appears in Municipal Court today on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

His son, Michael, his body covered with welts and bruises, was in Lakeside Hospital with a possible skull fracture.

Police said Simko's wife, Lilly, 45, told them of the beating, which she said was one of a series which started when Michael was 10-months old. Simko also has beaten her and another child, 6-year-old Christine, police quoted her as saying.

Widely Known Cornetist To Give Program

Prof. J. Roy MacMurray, well known cornet soloist-composer has been secured by the Pickaway County Milker's Producers Association Cooperative Club to present an all-musical program here Thursday evening.

The program is set for 8 p. m. at the fairgrounds coliseum.

MacMurray, advertised by a leading band instrument company of the nation as "America's Renowned Cornet Technician", is a graduate of Findlay College Conservatory of Music, and a former understudy of Professor M. L. Landis, director of the Ohio State University Marching Band.

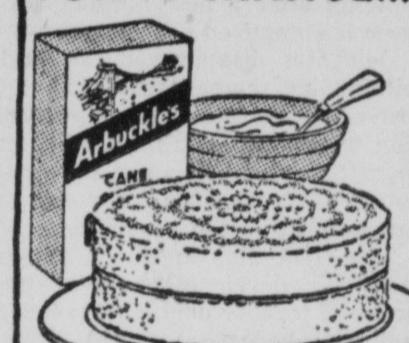

He also studied under Dr. Herbert L. Clarke, world's foremost cornet soloist.

MacMurray is annually heard at the Winona Lake Indiana Bible and Music Assembly and this winter in Florida will assist Dr. Homer Rodeheaver, famous song director. MacMurray is regarded as the foremost religious trumpeter of the world, according to Rodeheaver, and in his program of classical and Christmas music he will offer some of his sacred repertoire.

He will play in part: "Cornet solos—Napolit", "Stars in a Velvet Sky", "The Carnival of Venice", "Ave Maria", "The Holy City", "Inflamatus", "O Holy Night", and "Adeste Fideles". Christmas carols will be played on a vibraphone and cathedral chimes. Mrs. Karl Herrmann will assist at the piano.

MacMURRAY is annually heard at the Winona Lake Indiana Bible and Music Assembly and this winter in Florida will assist Dr. Homer Rodeheaver, famous song director. MacMurray is regarded as the foremost religious trumpeter of the world, according to Rodeheaver, and in his program of classical and Christmas music he will offer some of his sacred repertoire.

He will play in part: "Cornet solos—Napoli", "Stars in a Velly Sky", "The Carnival of Venice", "Ave Maria", "The Holy City", "Inflamatus", "O Holy Night", and "Adeste Fideles". Christmas carols will be played on a vibraphone and cathedral chimes. Mrs. Karl Herrmann will assist at the piano.

Things For 1956 Consumer Look Very Rosy, Plentiful

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Slap-happy from good times, the nation dances into the new year confident and cocky. Ignoring the warnings—an indicated return to the cold war, a possible threat from mounting consumer debts, a chance the freely-spending public may be near satisfaction, and the fear that runaway inflation could turn boom into bust—businessmen in general look for nothing short of new records in the first half of 1956.

The everyday Joe hopes they are right and that he will get his share.

At mid-year both may get a few hints. Election year uncertainties will wear on the nerves. Strikes in basic industries could come as the giant, newly-merged labor organization tries for higher wages and for a closer approach to the guaranteed annual wage.

But for the consumer the prospects now are all on the bright side: Lots of jobs, higher incomes, maybe lower taxes, only slightly higher living costs, and an intense courtship by retailers of food, clothing, appliances, cars.

Keeping up with the Joneses, however, will be just as expensive as ever—incomes certainly won't

Edison Plant Cost To Be $62 Million

AKRON (AP) — Ohio Edison Co. says the steam power plant it will build next to the New Cumberland locks and dam, now under construction on the Ohio River near Stratton, will cost $62 million and will have an initial generating capacity of 340,000 kilowatts.

The plant will contain two steam electric generating units, each with a capacity of carrying 170,000 kilowatts of the system load. They will be the largest generators in the Ohio Edison system.

Construction will start next spring, the company said, with the first generator starting operation in 1959 and the second in 1960.

Ohio Bell Chieftain To Receive Award

CLEVELAND (AP) — The National Human Relations Award of the National Conference of Christians and Jews will be conferred on John A. Greene, president of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co.

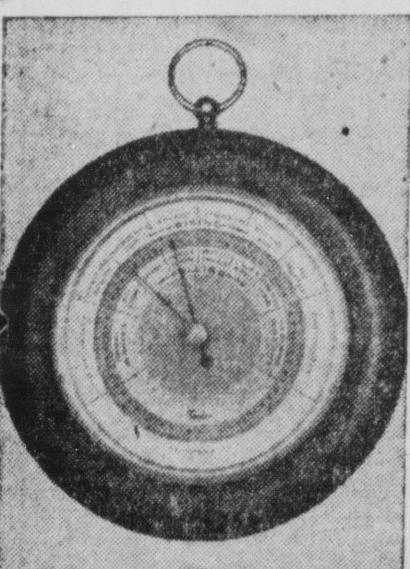

A testimonial dinner will be held here Jan. 15 to present the award.

Greene was cited for "35 years of devotion to the cause of the brotherhood of man under the fatherhood of God."

He has been president of the Welfare Federation and the Community Fund here and active in the local chapter of the conference.

It will be only the second time in 96 years that the Oberlin mock convention has not been Republican. Next year's session will be held May 4-5.

outstrip the eternal American yen for ever higher standards of living.

For businessmen there will be bigger plums to pick—but more effort and skill needed for the plucking, especially if growing competition is to be met and higher operating costs to be overcome, and sales records to be turned into higher profits.

Here's what the economists in and out of business think 1956 is most likely to hold in store for you, your family and your boss:

JOBS — Will be abundant and take home pay faster because of higher wage scales, full work weeks and a good chance of tax cuts.

Employment will take its usual January dip and then climb to new heights. But a steadily growing labor force will keep the total of the jobless about the same as in 1955. The big wedding of the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations will add zip to labor's demands for higher wages and the push of some unions for a guaranteed annual wage.

TAX CUTS — Will be pushed hard in Congress.

Income levies seem likely to drop. The boss still hopes that the 52 per cent rate on corporate income may drop, at least to 50 per cent. But the chances for excise (sales) tax cuts look slim.

PERSONAL INCOME — Heads for new records.

Individuals had around 272 billion dollars a year left over after taxes at the end of 1955. Before 1956 ends disposal income may rise to 280 billion.

HOMEBUILDING — Lagging as 1956 starts, may pick up as the year ages.

Credit restrictions are likely to be eased if house starts drop below the 1,200,000 a year goal. This off from 1955, but total spending for homes is expected to fall very little below 1955's total of 16 billion dollars—this is because bigger and costlier houses are being planned.

Injuries Fatal

DAYTON (AP) — Injuries received Dec. 6 in an explosion at the United Fireworks Mfg. Co. near here were fatal last night for Edward Terry, 50.

A testimonial dinner will be held here Jan. 15 to present the award.

Greene was cited for "35 years of devotion to the cause of the brotherhood of man under the fatherhood of God."

He has been president of the Welfare Federation and the Community Fund here and active in the local chapter of the conference.

It will be only the second time in 96 years that the Oberlin mock convention has not been Republican. Next year's session will be held May 4-5.

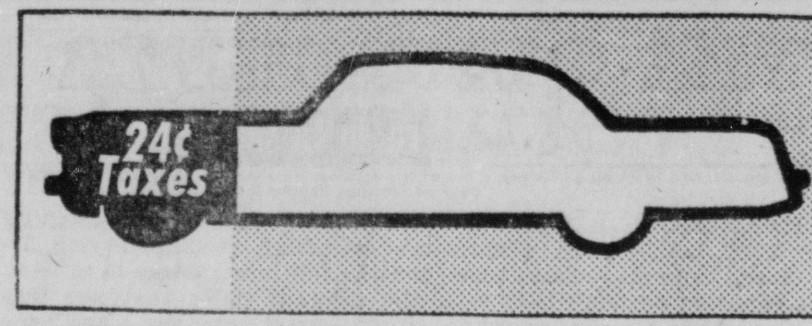

Pedestrian Fined For Denting Auto

CLEVELAND (AP) — A pedestrian, who ran into a car and dented it, was fined $15 for jaywalking.

Traffic Judge Louis Petrasch imposed the fine on Arthur Hrovat, a stocky 18-year-old. He also was ordered to pay a $27.65 repair bill on the car.

Hrovat, a former high school football player, said he dashed across the street and bumped into the auto after attending a football game. He was not hurt.

Canton Employees Vote To Walk Out

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Hourly-rated city employees voted last night for a strike to enforce their stand that a 5 per cent wage boost would not give them a satisfactory standard of living in Canton.

Now making an average of $1.60 hourly, the workers turned down

Cleveland Cop Checks Man's Claim

CLEVELAND (AP) — A Cleveland detective flew to Los Angeles last night to question a man who says he killed 10-year-old Beverly Potts here and buried her in a shallow grave.

The detective, George Gackowski, took with him a number of maps and photographs and a list of vaudeville acts which were presented at the West Side Park from which Beverly disappeared on Aug. 24, 1951.

In Los Angeles, he will use his equipment in questioning Henry Rushkowski, 44, a transient hospital attendant who claims he killed the girl in July, 1952, which was almost a year after she disappeared.

Sharp Earthquake Felt In Wyoming

LANDER, Wyo. (AP) — Dishes rattled and trees swayed but no damage was reported from a sharp earthquake felt Tuesday in this West Central Wyoming town of 3,349. There were reports of a loud roar accompanying the forenoon tremor in an area at the foot of the Wind River Mountains.

Canton Employees Vote To Walk Out

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Hourly-rated city employees voted last night for a strike to enforce their stand that a 5 per cent wage boost would not give them a satisfactory standard of living in Canton.

Voting were 301 of 319 eligible employees from the street, water, sewage and garbage departments. They are represented by the AFL Truck Drivers Union.

Now making an average of $1.60 hourly, the workers turned down the city's offer of 5 per cent and adjustments beyond that for certain jobs.

Employment will take its usual January dip and then climb to new heights. But a steadily growing labor force will keep the total of the jobless about the same as in 1955. The big wedding of the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations will add zip to labor's demands for higher wages and the push of some unions for a guaranteed annual wage.

FOOD—Should be abundant and prices averaging out about the same as in 1955.

Weather can call the tune on crops. Fruits and vegetables will respond, but carry-over supplies of grains assure ample victuals and a large livestock population guarantees plenty of meat—around 161 pounds per person in 1956. But more mouths to feed, and fat pocketbooks, should assure the food industry of selling even more than 1955's record 68 billion dollars worth.

HOME BUILDING—Lagging as 1956 starts, may pick up as the year ages.

Credit restrictions are likely to be eased if house starts drop below the 1,200,000 a year goal. This off from 1955, but total spending for homes is expected to fall very little below 1955's total of 16 billion dollars—this is because bigger and costlier houses are being planned.

Savings may play a bigger role in the new year. They trailed consumer debt in 1955, but the time for repayment is at hand. Wage and salary totals are rising. Dividend payments are at an all-time high with the trend still higher.

PERSONAL INCOME—Heads for new records.

Individuals had around 272 billion dollars a year left over after taxes at the end of 1955. Before 1956 ends disposal income may be up to 280 billion.

POLITICAL HOOKS

WHEN THE CALL was made for the White House conference on education it was proclaimed that the purpose was to consider the major problems of the nation's public schools and to recommend steps to solve them.

Two thousand "delegates" representing classrooms, school districts and state departments of education answered the call, and soon the delegates got down to work.

The conference had been under way less than one full day when it became plain that the several major problems which had been taken to Washington were boiling down to just one—federal aid for local schools.

Approximately one-third of those in attendance stood up and voiced opposition to any movement that would permit the Washington government to sink its political hooks into any part of local school systems. This minority was convinced that any time the government puts aid money into a two-room grade school or a 60-room high school, in city or country, an unwanted measure of federal political patronage control would surely follow.

Perhaps other conferences on education should be called. The major problems of the local systems remain unsolved, in fact were barely mentioned at the recent national conference.

Adjustment of school taxes at the home district level, weeding out worn-out and unqualified teachers, employment of instructors who are capable of teaching subjects the modern world is demanding—these and other problems which were taken to Washington for serious study, but were crowded out by the cries for foreign aid, still are high on the agenda of school needs.

The proper place to work out the solutions is at the home and state level.

SOIL STATESMEN

AT A KANSAS State College forum on land use a soil scientist said this country may soon need more farm production than it has now. He based this prediction on a rapidly growing population.

This is a favorite topic of agricultural experts that strikes many persons like crying "wolf." Washington seems to be unable to make any of the acreage restriction programs work. Cut down on his crop area, the farmer seeds his best soil, applies fertilizer, selects more productive seed types and produces as much as before acreage was reduced.

Average wheat production has increased six bushels an acre in a dozen years. Surplus accumulations continue troublesome.

But the experts may be right from the long range view. The nation may be flirting with disaster if it does not preserve the soil values of cropped acres and build up values in acres temporarily out of production.

Reclaiming waste land with federal and state assistance may seem foolish now. But it may be needed when the population crosses the 200 million mark.

Statesmanship is required to solve the current farm over-production problem. But the greater statesmen may be those who look ahead to a period when America may regret every wasted acre—including industrial, public improvement and suburban housing developments which are tak-

These Days

As one reads the decision of Judge Luther W. Youngdahl on passport matters, it would appear, even from his own words, that the fundamental principle of separation of powers, while he acknowledges them, does not prevent him from interfering with both the Executive and Legislative branches.

For instance, Judge Youngdahl says:

"...the court is satisfied that the Secretary of State is necessarily empowered to make reasonable classifications of persons who are to be granted or denied passports..."

However, he objects to the Secretary of State changing his attitude at different times.

"The rather contradictory shifts in position by the Government regarding this plaintiff renders suspect the standard for determining the right to a passport under Section 51.135 of the Passport Regulations..."

Then he goes on to say:

"...While Section 51.135 does not appear to set forth an unreasonable classification, it must be conceded that it is sweeping in nature and does permit exceedingly wide discretion to the Department of State to deny passports. This being so, fair play requires that one have the opportunity to challenge the basis of, and reasons for, a denial under this section directly and specifically..."

It does not appear to be clear, from the Act, that this is any of the judge's business. If passports are within the discretion of the Secretary of State, under the law, as the judge concedes, he may, of course, deny that it is a good law. But he does not quite say that. What he does say is:

"To uphold Section 51.170 would grant to the Government the right to deny passports in an uncontrolled manner, with virtually absolute authority at any time and in any way it seems fit..."

If Congress authorizes the exercise of such authority by the Executive, it can only be wrong if a specific provision of the Constitution is violated. At no point does Judge Youngdahl indicate that this Act is a violation of the Constitution except that if Section 51.170 is "used in conjunction with" Section 51.135 it does not provide due process.

It would now seem that the entire matter is up to Congress. The Constitution does not provide for the free issuance of passports nor does it forbid the issuance of passports or establishment of regulations by the Executive concerning them. As a matter of fact, there is not a word on the subject in the Constitution.

A passport or safe conduct was originally issued in time of war and was a document granting persons or property "a specified exemption for the time being from the operations of war." It has been extended to include peace time operations, permitting a person to move from one country to another.

The American passport has been described as a document of identity and nationality issued only to persons owing allegiance to the United States. The bearer is not only permitted to move from country to country but he is entitled to ask for and receive protection and good offices of American diplomatic consular and officers abroad.

In case of need they are to give him aid and protection. The Government of the Untied States has consistently maintained that the passport is its property, to be returned on request. On January 30, 1931, the Solicitor of the State Department wrote:

Forecasts Getting Weirder

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Year after year Hugo Gernsback probably puts out the most unusual Christmas cards in America.

Each year they contain predictions by Gernsback, publisher of the magazine "Radio-Electronics," on how life will be lived in the future.

Some years his forecasts are pretty eerie. This year they are weirder than weird. If Gernsback is even half-right, the average man will probably be glad he lives in the present and that the next century will be up to possibility to endure.

Take the matter of transportation. Glancing into his crystal ball, Gernsback sees the "air-mobile" as the only final answer to today's traffic problem.

Motorists will zoom through the skies in small gravity-resistant cars propelled by compressed air.

"All-around radar will make collisions in the air almost an impossibility," he adds.

Are you worried about where you will be buried? Gernsback is. He fears the earth soon will be too crowded for cemeteries.

But he has an answer—space burials.

Coffins containing the dead will be taken up into outer space by flying funerary ships. At the proper altitude the ships will discharge their cargo in a direction away from the sun. Frozen snug in your casket, you will then soar out of the pattern of the solar system and sail on forever in space.

Gernsback sees this as science learns more about sex it will produce the "electromicro-perceptor," or sex measurer. By undergoing tests with this machine couples will supposedly be able to determine whether they will be compatible in marriage, at least in terms of physical response.

It may well be that Gernsback is right about the bright future of the automobile, space burials, and the electronicized brain. But will any man in his right mind ever come home to a wife who keeps an "electromicro-perceptor" in the house? I doubt it.

Somebody should loan a compass to Krushchev and Bulganin, the Russian Rover Boys. The farther they go on their Asiatic speech making tour the more confused they sound.

CHAPTER THIRTEEN

AT THE Lord's Lora glanced past Wade into the long room where candles were multiplied to a myriad number by the reflection from many windows. Breathless couples swept by in the polka and there was laughter and the sliding sound of feet on the waxed floor. The Christmas tree loomed brilliant in the bay window, crowning the bright scene.

Across the room near one fireplace she saw an arresting couple who were not ruffling themselves in the quick dance. The woman was Morgan Channing and she wore a gown of creamy white satin trimmed in velvet bands of turquoise blue. Her smoothly combed hair had been caught in a white, bequined snood which tied on top of her head with a narrow white velvet ribbon. Her lips were bright with rouge and there was a burning intensity in her dark eyes. It would seem that all her attention was for the handsome young man with blonde sideburns before her. But just for a flickering instant Morgan's eyes shifted from his face and swept toward the door, then back again. She had seen Wade, of course. But she had not tried to catch his eyes, and she did not move to greet him.

Wade and Lora found cushioned seats near a window at the far end of the room, and from that moment on they were not left alone. Wade was as charming and gay as though no dark shadows had ever fallen on his life. Every one seemed to like him, and Lora began to realize how popular he and Virginia must have been in the happy days before the war.

Moreover, he began to expand and grow more confident under this feminine attention and admiration. He had a need for this sort of thing, Lora thought guiltily, that she could not fill.

She knew his friends were curious about her, though they hid their interest in well-mannered way. There were some who gushed a little and told Wade that she was "sweet" and "shy." Listening and watching, smiling, saying little, she did not think that she was either sweet or shy, and she wished Wade would not be so pleased with these labels.

Pineville, she thought restlessly, was far removed from this glittering party world, but Pineville had more reality. True, the blue of uniforms was in evidence tonight on every hand, but that was the only reminder of the war. What did these pretty, richly gowned women know of dirt and blood and death? Or even of the deprivation of war? War had not yet truly touched them—not in the sense that it had put its harsh stamp upon women of the border towns and women of the south. The gay party Lora had looked forward to with such eagerness seemed suddenly tinsel, and those who danced were paper puppets.

She had been reaching for a rainbow, she thought, pretending to herself that rainbows were tangible. Now she knew that what she had reached for was only for forgetfulness, just as Wade, too, reached for some anesthetic that would deaden the sense of pain, permit an escape into a carefree, happy world. But there was no such escape for her.

Across the room Morgan Channing moved into the arms of her tall blond escort and joined the dancers for the first time. Lora followed them with her eyes. Of all the women in this room Morgan alone seemed flesh and blood in reality. One could sense the force that drove her, the intentness of purpose that made other women seem limp as paper dolls. What was that purpose? Lora wondered.

"Who is the handsome one Morgan is dancing with?" whispered someone.

A man near Wade answered, "That's Murray Norwood. A so-called Peace Democrat, like our friend Seymour whose inauguration New Year's day as governor of New York will set us well on the road to treason. Somehow I do not like the smell of Copperheads any more than I like the stink of secession."

Tinsel fell away for a moment, uncovering the gray look of war beneath the glitter. But after a tiny, shocked silence, the tinsel-covering was tugged back into place with quick words and laughter, and the moment might have been forgotten had Wade not, to Lora's surprise, challenged the speaker.

"As I understand it," said Wade courteously, "there is no taint of treason on Seymour. He is against the war—and so has been elected. But he is not against the Union."

The man who had spoken said, "Pah!" rudely and would have argued further had not his feminine companion pulled him a little frantically out upon the floor among the dancers.

"Plainly not a gentleman," someone said lightly as they whirled away, but Lora saw Wade's gaze move speculatively toward the man with Morgan Channing.

Now and then some gentleman bowed before Lora and asked her to dance, but each time she shook her head, smiling, and Wade was pleased.

During the next break in the music, Edgar Lord came toward her across the room, broad of shoulder and handsome in a new blue uniform with brass buttons shining. He smiled down at her, bowing.

"You've not been dancing, Mrs. Tyler. But tonight we permit no lovely ladies to sit and watch. May I have the honor?"

Again she shook her head. "Thank you, but since Wade is unable to dance as yet..."

"I've never known Wade to be so unkind a taskmaster," Edgar said, and turned his friendly smile on Wade. "You'll surrender the lady, sir?"

"To a superior officer, yes," said Wade, laughing. "Of course you must dance with Edgar, Lora."

POLITICAL HOOKS

WHEN THE CALL was made for the White House conference on education it was proclaimed that the purpose was to consider the major problems of the nation's public schools and to recommend steps to solve them.

Two thousand "delegates" representing classrooms, school districts and state departments of education answered the call, and soon the delegates got down to work.

The conference had been under way less than one full day when it became plain that the several major problems which had been taken to Washington were boiling down to just one—federal aid for local schools.

Approximately one-third of those in attendance stood up and voiced opposition to any movement that would permit the Washington government to sink its political hooks into any part of local school systems. This minority was convinced that any time the government puts aid money into a two-room grade school or a 60-room high school, in city or country, an unwanted measure of federal political patronage control would surely follow.

Perhaps other conferences on education should be called. The major problems of the local systems remain unsolved, in fact were barely mentioned at the recent national conference.

Adjustment of school taxes at the home district level, weeding out worn-out and unqualified teachers, employment of instructors who are capable of teaching subjects the modern world is demanding—these and other problems which were taken to Washington for serious study, but were crowded out by the cries for foreign aid, still are high on the agenda of school needs.

The proper place to work out the solutions is at the home and state level.

SOIL STATESMEN

AT A KANSAS State College forum on land use a soil scientist said this country may soon need more farm production than it has now. He based this prediction on a rapidly growing population.

This is a favorite topic of agricultural experts that strikes many persons like crying "wolf." Washington seems to be unable to make any of the acreage restriction programs work. Cut down on his crop area, the farmer seeds his best soil, applies fertilizer, selects more productive seed types and produces as much as before acreage was reduced.

Average wheat production has increased six bushels an acre in a dozen years. Surplus accumulations continue troublesome.

But the experts may be right from the long range view. The nation may be flirting with disaster if it does not preserve the soil values of cropped acres and build up values in acres temporarily out of production.

Reclaiming waste land with federal and state assistance may seem foolish now. But it may be needed when the population crosses the 200 million mark.

Statesmanship is required to solve the current farm over-production problem. But the greater statesmen may be those who look ahead to a period when America may regret every wasted acre—including industrial, public improvement and suburban housing developments which are tak-

These Days

As one reads the decision of Judge Luther W. Youngdahl on passport matters, it would appear, even from his own words, that the fundamental principle of separation of powers, while he acknowledges them, does not prevent him from interfering with both the Executive and Legislative branches.

For instance, Judge Youngdahl says: ". . . the court is satisfied that the Secretary of State is necessarily empowered to make reasonable classifications of persons who are to be granted or denied passports . . ."

However, he objects to the Secretary of State changing his attitude at different times.

"The rather contradictory shifts in position by the Government regarding this plaintiff renders suspect the standard for determining the right to a passport under Section 51.135 of the Passport Regulations . . ."

Then he goes on to say:

This being so, fair play requires that one have the opportunity to challenge the basis of, and reasons for, a denial under this section directly and specifically . . ."

Garden Club Has Christmas Party

A Christmas carry-in dinner and gift exchange were held by the Solaqua Garden Club when it met recently in the Robtown parish hall.

The meeting opened by scripture taken from Luke followed by roll call, which was answered by naming a favorite Christmas carol.

A program was presented as follows: poem, "The Gardener's Visit from St. Nicholas" by Mrs. Georgia Hobbs; readings, "The Shoemaker's Dream"; and "The Lord's Prayer from Amos and Andy" by Mrs. Eliza Brooks; a duet, "The Eastern Star", by Mrs. Cecil Ward and Mrs. Brooks.

Baskets of food will be given to two needy families for Christmas. Hostesses in charge of the meeting were Mrs. Cecil Ward, Mrs. Boyd Hines and Mrs. Charles Huston.

Twenty-eight members and friends of the Ladies Aid and Service Circles of First Evangelical United Brethren Church met together for a covered-dish dinner and Christmas party Monday in the Service Center.

The room and tables were decorated in keeping with the Christmas theme.

Mrs. O. F. Gibbs, president, conducted a short business program and then turned the meeting over to the program chairman, Mrs. Leroy Thomas.

The program consisted of group singing of Christmas carols and the Christmas Story as told by St. Luke, read by the Rev. O. F. Gibbs.

A reading, "The Night Before Christmas" was given by Mrs. Charles Ater; a duet, "Star of the East", by Mrs. Frank Hawkes and Mrs. Thomas; a playlet, "Gift Wrapping" was presented by Mrs. Edwin Richardson, assisted by Connie Estep, Donnie Lindsey, Sandra and Linda Gibbs and Anna Mae Styer.

Rev. Gibbs showed a film entitled "That They May Hear."

Following the program, a gift exchange was held.

The Rebecca Circle served beverage and dessert for evening refreshments.

Christmas Musical Program Presented

The Monday Club voted a donation for the maintenance of the National Home of Federation of Women's Clubs in Washington, D.C. when it met Monday evening in the Trustees Room of the Library.

Mrs. Collis Young opened the meeting by reading a Christmas poem.

The following committee was named to serve for the coming Bloodmobile date: Mrs. Ralph Hosler, chairman, Mrs. Clark Hunsicker Jr., Mrs. Theodore L. Huston, Mrs. Arthur Johnson, Miss Carrie Johnson, Mrs. Lawrence Johnson and Mrs. Richard A. Jack.

The Club rooms were decorated by the house committee in keeping with the holiday season.

Miss Eleanor Snyder served as chairman for the program presented as follows:

Group singing by members of Monday Club, "Hark the Herald Angels Sing," and "O Little Town of Bethlehem", with Mrs. T. L. Huston, accompanist.

The Monday Club chorus presented "We Three Kings" and "How Far is it to Bethlehem?", followed by a piano solo, "Musical Christmas Story", with illustrations by Mrs. T. L. Huston.

A vocal solo entitled "And There were Shepherds Abiding in the Field" was given by Mrs. Ralph Dunkle with Mrs. Martin Cromley, accompanist.

Mrs. Carl Bennett presented a reading "The Littlest Angel", and the Monday Club chorus concluded the program with the carols, "Away in the Manger", "O Come All Ye Faithful", and "Silent Night".

Mrs. James Moffitt was the musical director.

Trinity Lutheran Circles Hold Installation Of Officers

The Circles of Trinity Lutheran Church held a joint meeting recently in the parish house with 90 in attendance.

The meeting opened with the hymn, "Joy to the World". Mrs. Denny Pickens was in charge of the devotions, using as her scripture the Christmas story from St. Luke, followed by a prayer.

During a short business meeting, Mrs. Carl Zehner gave a report on their visit to the 13th Annual Women's Federation Conference held in Columbus recently.

The Rev. Carl Zehner installed the new officers for 1956 who are as follows: president, Mrs. Harold Anderson; first vice-president, Mrs. Truman Eberly; second vice-president, Mrs. Richard Penn; secretary, Mrs. Russel Skaggs; treasurer, Mrs. Francis McGinnis.

Others were: life-membership chairman, Miss Florence Hoffman; mission education chairman, Mrs. Gladden Troutman; thank-offering chairman, Mrs. Marion Steinhauer; special needs chairman, Mrs. Charles Walters; Christian service chairman, Mrs. Lloyd Fisher; New Guinea missionary chairman, Mrs. Robert Wills; Women of India missionary chairman, Mrs. Margaret Evans; and junior mission board chairman, Mrs. M. D. Lorenz.

Rev. Zehner closed the installation with a prayer, and the carol "O, Little Town of Bethlehem" was sung.

Mrs. Harold Anderson gave a short address of welcome to the visitors present.

A tableau was presented depicting the picture "Beholding His Glory" that appears on the cover of Outlook magazine for December. Rev. and Mrs. Zehner and Mrs. Noble Barr portrayed the picture.

Mrs. Edward Wolfe, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Herbert White, formerly of Denmark, who gave a lecture on the Christmas customs of the Danes.

In part she said, "Christmas in Denmark is celebrated for two weeks". She wore an original dress from Denmark and told of her personal experiences as an immigrant to this country. Mrs. White is now a resident of Columbus.

The decorations in the dining room were in the Christmas theme and were the work of Circle 5.

Circle 4 was in charge of the refreshments. Mrs. Zehner and Mrs. Ray Johnson assisted at the tea table, which was decorated in Christmas greenery and appropriate yule-time decorations.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Here is an ABC on two men named Lee who lost their jobs on the CAA and CAB. Sound confusing? It is. Even telling the difference between CAA and CAB gets confusing. Now, with politics involved, things are worse.

Just keep this in mind about the two Lees before getting any deeper: One is Josh Lee; the other is Frederick B. Lee. Josh Lee, a Democrat, lost his job when his term was up; Frederick Lee, a Republican, was bounced.

CAB — Civil Aeronautics Board — is a five-man board which is the big boss of civil aviation. It says what airlines get what routes, writes the safety rules, investigates accidents, and decides who's to blame for them. The CAB is answerable directly to the President. Josh Lee was a member of this five-man board.

CAA — Civil Aeronautics Administration — carries out CAB's orders through teams of inspectors, operates flying facilities such as signals and radar warnings and airport control towers, and is supposed to foster the development of civil aviation in general.

The CAA — Frederick B. Lee was the administrator and boss here — is part of the Commerce Department. This made Lee answerable directly to Secretary of Commerce Weeks.

Here is what happened: Josh Lee, former Oklahoma senator, was appointed to two six-year terms on the five-man CAB by Presidents Roosevelt and Truman.

President Eisenhower announced Dec. 8 he would replace him with another Democrat, G. Joseph Minetti of New York, when his second term ends Dec. 31.

This might not have attracted much attention if Frederick B. Lee had not bounded into the news about the same time. Republican Secretary Weeks forced Lee, a Vermont Republican, to resign as boss of CAA, a job Eisenhower gave him in 1954. On Dec. 10 Eisenhower announced he would be replaced by another Republican, Charles J. Lowen Jr.

The Democrats jumped on this, not so much on the exit of Democrat Josh Lee as on the firing of Republican Frederick B. Lee, but linked the two departures. The big question — not fully answered yet: Why was Frederick B. Lee forced to resign?

In a letter sent with his resignation to Eisenhower, F. B. Lee said Weeks told him they weren't getting along satisfactorily. But Lee informed newsmen, Weeks had never told him what was wrong. Then Weeks' undersecretary of Commerce, Louis S. Rothschild, got into the act with an explanation which explained little. He said Lee was asked to quit because of an "accumulation of stresses detrimental to the sound development of civil aviation."

Up stepped a spokesman for the Democrats, Sen. Monroney of Oklahoma, chairman of the Senate's subcommittee on aviation. He said his group would investigate the whole thing in January.

Monroney said Frederick B. Lee had been let out because he didn't "Knuckle under" to Weeks and Rothschild so they could be the big bosses of aviation. He said

A POLICEMAN (on steps) is held "prisoner" by rioting students in front of the old Parliament in Athens during a demonstration commemorating the day Greece issued an ultimatum to Mussolini in 1940. An anniversary parade turned into violence when the students seized the occasion to denounce the island of Cyprus being given to their country. Thirty-nine persons, including 13 police men, were injured. Bricks were thrown by the young men as they shouted anti-British slogans.

'55 Kroger Sales Far Ahead Of '54

CINCINNATI (AP)—The 1955 sales of the Kroger Co. soared past the $1 billion mark during the 12th 4-week sales period ended Dec. 3.

The company reported total sales during the first 12 sales periods were $1,102,372,290, an increase of 10 per cent over the 1954 total of $1,001,079,967 for the same period.

Sales during the last four weeks amounted to $107,147,608, a 26 per cent increase over the $85,104,255 reported in 1945.

Frederick B. Lee favored a big federal aid program to help build more airports while Weeks and Rothschild wanted a "railroaded transportation policy."

Then Monroney took another crack at Rothschild. He said Minetti, picked by the Republicans to succeed Josh Lee on the CAB, although a Democrat, was a "buddy" of Rothschild.

The sacking of Frederick B. Lee from the CAA, Monroney said, "is all part of a pattern which included the blocking of the reappointment of Josh Lee (to the CAB). Ross Rizley (a Republican and chairman of the CAB) is soon to be appointed a federal judge. And Weeks will have another position to fill in his grab for control of aviation."

The chewing gum business dates back to 1860.

"...the issuing government always... retains a paramount right to a passport. This right has frequently been exercised by our Government, not only in demanding the return of old passports by persons to whom new passports are granted, but also in authorizing officials in this country and diplomatic and consular officers abroad to take up passports which are being used for improper purposes."

The Youngdahl decision requires the State Department to issue passports willy-nilly even when, in the judgment of its officers, the United States can be harmed by one may be issued to him!

the person involved. This is definitely withholding from the Executive power granted to him by the Constitution to conduct the foreign affairs of this country.

The authority of the Secretary of State to issue passports is defined by law. The Act states that the Secretary "may" issue passports; nothing in the Act makes it mandatory. There is no law which gives a citizen a right to a passport; the law only says that one may be issued to him!

Josh Lee, former Oklahoma senator, was appointed to two six-year terms on the five-man CAB by Presidents Roosevelt and Truman.

President Eisenhower announced Dec. 8 he would replace him with another Democrat, G. Joseph Minetti of New York, when his second term ends Dec. 31.

This might not have attracted much attention if Frederick B. Lee had not bounded into the news about the same time. Republican Secretary Weeks forced Lee, a Vermont Republican, to resign as boss of CAA, a job Eisenhower gave him in 1954. On Dec. 10 Eisenhower announced he would be replaced by another Republican, Charles J. Lowen Jr.

The Democrats jumped on this, not so much on the exit of Democrat Josh Lee as on the firing of Republican Frederick B. Lee, but linked the two departures. The big question — not fully answered yet: Why was Frederick B. Lee forced to resign?

In a letter sent with his resignation to Eisenhower, F. B. Lee said Weeks told him they weren't getting along satisfactorily. But, Lee informed newsmen, Weeks had never told him what was wrong.

Then Weeks' undersecretary of Commerce, Louis S. Rothchild, got into the act with an explanation which explained little. He said Lee was asked to quit because of an "accumulation of stresses detrimental to the sound development of civil aviation."

Up stepped a spokesman for the Democrats, Sen. Monrone of Oklahoma, chairman of the Senate's subcommittee on aviation. He said his group would investigate the whole thing in January.

Monrone said Frederick B. Lee had been let out because he didn't "Knuckle under" to Weeks and Rothchild so they could be the big bosses of aviation. He said

A POLICEMAN (on steps) is held "prisoner" by rioting students in front of the old Parliament in Athens during a demonstration commemorating the day Greece issued an ultimatum to Mussolini in 1940. An anniversary parade turned into violence when the students seized the occasion to denounce the island of Cyprus to be given to their country. Thirty-nine persons, including 13 policemen, were injured. Bricks were thrown by the young men as they shouted anti-British slogans.

'55 Kroger Sales Far Ahead Of '54

CINCINNATI — The 1955 sales of the Kroger Co. soared past the $1 billion mark during the 12th 4-week sales period ended Dec. 3.

The company reported total sales during the first 12 sales periods were $1,102,372,290, an increase of 10 per cent over the 1954 total of $1,001,079,967 for the same period.

Sales during the last four weeks amounted to $107,147,608, a 26 per cent increase over the $85,104,255 reported in 1945.

Frederick B. Lee favored a big aid program to help build more airports while Weeks and Rothchild wanted a "railroad-slated transportation policy." Then Monrone took another crack at Rothchild. He said Minetti, picked by the Republicans to succeed Josh Lee on the CAB, although a Democrat, was a "buddy" of Rothchild.

The sacking of Frederick B. Lee from the CAA, Monrone said, "is all part of a pattern which included the blocking of the reappointment of Josh Lee (to the CAB). Ross Rizley (a Republican and chairman of the CAB) is soon to be appointed a federal judge. And Weeks will have another position to fill in his grab for control of aviation."

The chewing gum business dates back to 1860.

Lockland Wayne Loses Star Cager

CINCINNATI (AP) — Earl Frederick, star center on the championship Lockland Wayne basketball team, was ruled ineligible yesterday because of over-age. The ruling came from H. W. Emswiler, Ohio high school athletic commissioner.

A birth certificate showed Frederick was born in May 1935, too old for high school sports. The age limit is 20.

Joe Martin, coach of the Ohio high school Class B basketball champions, said he thought Frederick was only 19.

Emswiler ruled Wayne's three previous victories forfeited.

Ameche, Otto Chalk Mark On Pro Grid

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Rookie Alan (The Horse) Ameche of the Baltimore Colts and retiring veteran Otto Graham of the Cleveland Browns captured the two big of 4.5 yards. Howie Ferguson of Green Bay was second with 859 yards on 182 carries, also for a 4.5 average. The league's best average per carry went to Dick Casares of the Chicago Bears with 672 yards on 125 runs, an average of 5.4.

Last year's leader, Joe Perry of San Francisco, also had a 4.5 average on 156 carries for 701 yards.

Graham tossed the ball 185 times, completed 98 for a gain of 1,721 yards—an average gain per pass attempt of 9.30 and a completion average of 53 per cent.

Bobby Layne of Detroit also had a 53 per cent completion average but he gained only 6.78 yards per toss.

Ed Brown of the Chicago Bears tossed 164, completed 85, gained 1,307 yards for an average of 7.97 yards per pass attempt, second best in the league.

Experts Offer Advice For Those Picking Christmas Trees

Those Already Skilled At Job Get Reminders

Final Selection Will Need Care Before Time For Trimming

Preparing to meet the all-important question that comes only once a year—"What kind of a tree will we get this Christmas?" — Pickaway County residents today had the advice of two of the nation's top-rated authorities.

Some of the things-to-check will be familiar to those experienced in the annual tree selection job. The suggestions, nevertheless, will increase your chances of getting the kind of tree you and your folks enjoy most.

One of the tree experts, Robert A. Bartlett, has issued a list of reminders and suggestions as follows:

When buying a Christmas tree in a lot, bounce it base down on the ground, hard. If needles drop, the tree has begun to dry out, and who wants a dry tree?

Make a second test for freshness. Rub a finger across the base. If it is sticky, it is still fresh.

SELECT A tree with a 6-7 inch long stump. That will give it drinking area to soak up water and allow stability when the tree is put up.

Buy your Christmas tree as early as possible for best selection. Get one with symmetry that will fit floor and ceiling space. Spread the lower branches. They should measure half the tree's height.

When home, cut a diagonal one-inch slice from the tree's stump and peel back the bark another inch. Place the tree in a pail of cold water to which is added a cup of sugar or syrup. Keep the tree outdoors on the porch or in the garage until Christmas Eve.

Each day sprinkle the branches with cold water and add water to the pail.

Choosing a Christmas tree for indoors is important.

Firs, either balsam or Douglas, retain their needles for two or three weeks in a heated room. Spruce needles, especially Norway spruce, may fall from branches in showers much sooner inside a house.

This is how to distinguish between fir and spruce, according to George M. Codding.

Twigs of firs are flat; those of spruce are 4-sided. Make your own simple test by twirling a needle between thumb and forefinger. Fir twigs are soft. Spruce ones are sharp, pointed, stabbing the hand. Moreover, twigs of balsam resem-

Cincy Man Ends Wife's 'Sitdown'

CINCINNATI (AP) — Mrs. Bob Smith, 23, of nearby Amelia conceded defeat yesterday in a dispute with an automobile agency.

She dramatized her protest over a repair bill by staging a sitdown strike in her car for portions of two days. Her husband resolved the matter by paying the bill.

Teacher Pay Upped

WILLOUGHBY (AP) — A $400 a year salary increase goes into effect Jan. 1 for teachers in the Willoughby-Eastlake School District. That will hike starting salaries to $3,800, with a maximum of $5,900.

ble little crosses and are rounded on the end.

WHITE SPRUCE may be desirable as an indoor Christmas tree if it is not cut too early in the season. Its needles are bluish-green. The Norway spruce with darker green needles sheds quickly indoors, yet it makes an ideal outdoor Christmas tree. The giant Christmas tree erected every year at Rockefeller Center in New York is invariably a Norway spruce.

Christmas tree preference varies. In the East, balsam, Douglas fir, white spruce and Scotch pine are most popular. In the mid-South, long-needed pine is the favorite. In the Far-West, firs and cypress get the nod.

BOTH the Army and Air Force will go ahead on an all-out basis in a drive to develop rocket missiles which will strike at distances of around 1,500 miles, Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson tells reporters in the Pentagon, Washington. There had been friction between the two services over which would conduct such a program. (International)

Columbus CIO Council Shuns City-Wide 'Work Holiday'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Columbus CIO Council last night rejected a one-day "work holiday" for 28,314 members of all CIO unions here proposed in support of striking Westinghouse workers.

Said Harry E. Mayfield, council president:

"We decided unanimously that it would not be fair to the people of Columbus or to the corporations with whom we are enjoying harmonious relationships to resort to a county-wide labor holiday at this time."

"We do not believe that the people of Columbus should be made to suffer because of the anti-worker policy of Westinghouse. We are determined to explore every possible peaceful avenue of solution before resorting to any tactics that might be detrimental to the welfare of the general public."

Columbus Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner said he will appoint a "Community Relations Committee" today to consider methods of "avoiding bloodshed in the strike" and to "seek a settlement."

The committee will be composed of clergymen active in church-labor work and represent the three major faiths, Sensenbrenner said.

Commenting on the mayor's action, Works Manager E. L. Smith of the Columbus Westinghouse plant said:

"We are highly gratified that he has seen fit to become interested in this situation."

"However, we doubt seriously that any local committee could achieve a settlement of a contractual dispute that has been negotiated by the top labor relations people of Westinghouse and the top officials of the union for 12 weeks."

Smith referred to stalemates

Man Sentenced In Fatal Beating

CINCINNATI (AP) — James Snyder, 43, said yesterday he beat a woman friend to death because "I'd just rather go to her funeral than have her go to mine."

The works manager mentioned the dynamite bombing Monday of the unoccupied station wagon of Charles Clark, president of striking Local 746, International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE).

"It would appear," said Smith,

"that the CIO Council is using the bombing incident as a convenient vehicle for inciting CIO members to do more acts of violence."

"We do not believe the CIO Council has acted in the best interests of its membership in doing so."

Smith said the company is "appalled" at the council for "making such a martyr of Charles Clark... in an effort to put an end to the back-to-work movement at the Westinghouse plant here."

Bystander Killed As Friends Argue

CINCINNATI (AP) — Mrs. Flossie Winn, 17, a bystander in an argument of two friends, was shot fatally last night. A bullet damaged a heart artery.

Police said a Cincinnati man without charge. They said he started arguing with Mrs. Rose Carlisle, 55, because she had been late for an appointment.

Push this button and all other cars seem outdated!

15 minutes in the new "PowerStyle" Chrysler can change a lifetime of buying habits!

What accounts for this magic? A whole new series of Chrysler engineering developments. Pushbutton PowerFlite transmission . . . a bigger airplane-type V-8 engine, more powerful than anything in its price class . . . full-time PowerPilot Steering . . . and newly designed PowerSmooth Brakes that bring you to the world's safest, smoothest straight line stops.

Chrysler, with its low center of gravity, rivals the cornering ability of a racing car. All this you see reflected in Chrysler's "PowerStyle" lines . . . the new Forward Look . . . the new look of power.

If you're now driving one of the other two major cars in Chrysler's price class, come in and make a direct comparison. Just see if Chrysler doesn't make everything else seem outdated!

"PowerStyle" CHRYSLER
NOW MORE THAN EVER . . . AMERICA'S MOST SMARTLY DIFFERENT CAR
